FLAGS AT HALF STAFF: The flags of the United States flew at half staff at the Kennedy Space Center on June 28, 2004, in honor of Manfred "Fred" A. Cardone, the OMDP Coordinator in OPF-3 for Logistics Support. Mr. Cardone died on June 23 and his funeral was June 28. (TA-G)

PRIVACY ACT NOTICE: Users are reminded that the Privacy Act requires any records that contain a Social Security Number or private information such as salary and medical records, must be kept in locked file drawers when unattended. It also requires that a NASA form 1534 be placed on top of all records subject to the Act. When transferring such records a SF-135, Records Transmittal and Receipt Form, must be used. For more information, contact Jeanine Meister at 867-8229. (TA-C2)

USE OF FEDERAL PROPERTY: There are statutory and regulatory prohibitions against the use of Federal property, facilities, and equipment for personal purposes. These prohibitions apply to such items as Government vehicles, office supplies, FTS (Federal Telecommunications Systems), Datafax, computers and network capabilities, reproduction equipment, tools, and a variety of utility and other items. This also applies to equipment provided by the Government for contractor use and to items issued to the Government. Employees have a positive duty to protect and conserve such items and other property entrusted to them. (BA-B)

INSPECTOR GENERAL: The Office of Criminal Investigations (OCI) is the investigative arm of the NASA Inspector General (IG). The OCI is an independent entity and reports directly to Robert Cobb, the NASA IG, in Washington D.C. The primary mission of this component is to conduct criminal and civil investigations of reported or suspected fraudulent acts by employees, contractors, and others relating to the administration of NASA contracts and programs. Although emphasis is placed on major procurement fraud, (particularly allegations of defective/substandard parts, mischarging, kickbacks, bid rigging, and research fraud), investigations are also conducted of theft, conflict of interest, environmental and hazardous waste violations, health care fraud, and computer related crimes. OCI also provides fraud briefings for Government and contractor employees that are designed to highlight potential risks concerning fraud and related matters. Suspected violations can be reported by calling 867-4714 locally, the toll free Hotline at 1-800-424-9183, or by writing NASA Inspector General, P. O. Box 23089, L'Enfant Plaza Station, Washington, D.C. 20024. The OIG Cyber-Hotline can be accessed at www.hq.nasa.gov/office/oig/hq. (OIG)

The Associate Administrator for Public Affairs has requested all NASA centers use only the printed NASA letterhead stationery. "The use of computer file NASA Insignias to custom design stationery provides opportunities for image manipulation and standards degradation which will adversely reflect the professional image of the Agency." If not approved for specific applications, electronic images of the NASA Insignia ("meatball") should be removed from computer systems. (IT-D1)

NUTRITION TIP FROM THE KSC FITNESS CENTER: OUTDOOR EXERCISE AND FLUIDS - HOW MUCH IS ENOUGH?
Outdoor exercisers need plenty of fluids to keep their bodies working properly. But how much? And is water enough?

Why water? Water is an essential nutrient. When you sweat, you lose water, which must then be replaced. Sweating may also result in loss of electrolytes such as sodium.

How much do you need? This varies depending on the temperature, how long and hard you exercise, and your body size and amount of sweating. As a rule, drink water before, during and after your workout. The American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) recommends drinking 500 milliliters (about two cups) of water two hours before exercise or activity. During exercise/activity you should begin replacing fluids (drinking) early and drink as much as you can comfortably tolerate. Drinking four to five ounces of water every 15 to 20 minutes should generally be adequate. By the time you're thirsty, you may already be low on fluids.

What about sports drinks? If you are exercising vigorously for more than sixty minutes, you may benefit from a sports drink, which contains carbohydrates and electrolytes.

Can you have too much water? Yes, although it's a very rare problem. Drinking too much water can cause hyponatremia, a condition in which your blood sodium is too low. It won't happen if you drink according to your thirst and comfort level and the recommendations made above. Source: June 2004 Mayo Clinic Newsletter <mailto:orrindl@kscems.ksc.nasa.gov> (TA-C2)

KSC/CCAFS HEALTH EDUCATION & WELLNESS PROGRAM—CANCER PREVENTION JULY 2004: The month of July is dedicated to cancer prevention. Scientific evidence suggests that about one-third of the 563,700 cancer deaths in the United States that are expected to occur in 2004 will be related to improper nutrition, physical inactivity, being overweight or obese, and other modifiable lifestyle factors, and thus could have been prevented. Moreover, many of the more than 1 million skin cancers that are expected to be diagnosed in 2004 could have been prevented by protection from the sun's rays.

This month's information packet contains important information about cancer significance, common types of cancers, cancer preventive behaviors, and types of cancer screening tests. The packet is available at the following link:

<http://sgs.ksc.nasa.gov/sgs/sites/other/chs/omehs/occmed/home/occucontent/CancerPrev-July2004.htm>

Hardcopies of the packet will also be available at all medical and fitness facilities. If you or your department/organization would like to be added to the monthly packet hardcopy distribution list, please call Kris Calderon at 867-3414. (TA-C2)
